Re: Letter of Commitment in Support of University of Wyoming Center for Economic Geology Research’s Application for Dry Fork Station carbon storage project under Phase III (Site Characterization and CO₂ Capture Assessment) of the U.S. Department of Energy’s CarbonSAFE Program (DE-FOA-0001999)

Dear Mr. Quillinan:

The purpose of this letter is to extend our support for your project application at Dry Fork Station being submitted to the U.S. Department of Energy for Phase III (Site Characterization and CO₂ Capture Assessment; DE-FOA-0001999) of the Carbon Storage Assurance Facility Enterprise program (CarbonSAFE).

Campbell County produces approximately seven quadrillion BTUs of energy annually, providing nearly ten percent of the country's energy demand from coal, oil and natural gas. To further illustrate the importance of energy in our county, the assessed valuation for coal, oil, and gas in fiscal year 2018 was $2.4 billion, $755 million, and $171 million, respectively. Campbell County’s economic viability is highly dependent on the ability to produce, market, and deliver mineral and energy products to consumers not only in the county but within the state and across the country. As the Energy Capital of the Nation, we are eager to support research and development in the field of advanced carbon utilization technologies.

The State of Wyoming is a leader in CCUS policy and projects. Nearly a decade ago, Wyoming was one of the first states to enact a comprehensive suite of laws governing CCUS projects, including pore space rights. The University of Wyoming’s Carbon Management Institute (now CEGR) led the development of the Wyoming Carbon Underground Storage Project at the Rock Springs Uplift (RSU). The RSU remains one of the better characterized deep saline CO₂ storage sites in the United States. Additionally, Wyoming is home to the Integrated Test Center (ITC), which has been constructed at Basin Electric Power Cooperative’s coal-based Dry Fork Station near Gillette. The ITC provides space for researchers to develop economically viable uses for CO₂ emissions. The State of Wyoming has supported applied research in a wide variety of clean coal and related carbon management technologies at the University of Wyoming. Importantly, Wyoming is one of the only states with CO₂ pipeline infrastructure and the state’s numerous enhanced oil recovery operations (CO₂-EOR) are amendable to incidental CO₂ storage while oil production occurs.

Campbell County recognizes the CarbonSAFE program as an important next phase in advancing CCUS science and policy and we are pleased to support the University of Wyoming Center for Economic Geology Research in your application for Phase III funding.

Sincerely,

Rusty Bell, Chairman
Campbell County Board of Commissioners

Dear Supervisor Bacon:

On behalf of the Board of Commissioners of the Tri County Coalition, which includes Campbell, Converse, and Weston Counties (Counties), we would like to thank you for allowing us the opportunity to provide comments on the above-referenced document. Management of the Thunder Basin National Grasslands (TBNG) has been a historically contentious issue and this plan amendment has a significant impact on the socio-economic viability of our counties and its residents. Management of the TBNG needs to be refocused to achieve a more balanced playing field and minimize conflict between stakeholders and this DEIS moves in that direction.

The Counties have been engaged in the entire planning process with the Forest Service (FS) and will remain committed to continuing to work within the process as a cooperating agency and a participant in the TBNG Stakeholder Collaborative Group to find solutions and implement on-the-ground treatment and restoration projects that will control prairie dog densities, focus on short grass prairie stature for vegetation, allow livestock permittees to fully utilize grazing allotments, while prioritizing the protection of private property.

The Counties are providing the following comments to be considered by the FS as we move toward development of the preferred alternative and the Final Environmental Impact Statement (FEIS) in the plan amendment process. It is insinuated that any comments submitted herein specific to the DEIS document would also apply to the appropriate sections in Appendix A – Proposed Plan Components in Table and Text Format and Appendix B – Proposed Approaches to Prairie Dog Management.

GENERAL COMMENTS

- County Land Use Plans – As a part of our county’s custom and culture, the protection of private property rights is the cornerstone of our local natural resource plans. We must promote being a good neighbor with our landowners and prevent undue degradation from occurring. As consistent with our county plans, federal land management agencies must provide for sufficient livestock forage where grazing allotments exist and a balance must be achieved with competing wildlife habitat. The FS must demonstrate that they considered local county natural resource plans and are consistent with local plans to the greatest extent allowed by law and that analysis must be included in the FEIS.

Furthermore, pursuant to the National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA) and the National Forest Management Act (NFMA), the Forest Service must coordinate with local governments when preparing land use plans—a requirement which includes addressing inconsistencies between Forest Service plans and local government plans.

NEPA’s implementing regulations require that a federal agency “cooperate with State and local agencies to the fullest extent possible to reduce duplication between NEPA and State and local requirements.” 40 C.F.R. § 1506.2. Federal agencies must also discuss any inconsistencies between a proposed action and State and local plans and include in an EIS a description of the extent to which the agency would harmonize its proposed action with the local law or plan. Id. NEPA implementing regulations provide the following language:

“To better integrate environmental impact statements into State or local planning processes, statements shall discuss any inconsistency of a proposed action with any approved State or local plan and laws (whether or not federally sanctioned). Where an inconsistency exists, the statement should describe the extent to which the agency would reconcile its proposed action with the plan or law.” Id. § 1506.2(d); see also 40 C.F.R. § 1505.16(c).

The National Forest Management Act (NFMA) requires the Forest Service to “develop, maintain, and, as appropriate, revise land and resource management plans for units of the National Forest System, coordinated with the land and resource management planning processes of State and local governments and other Federal agencies.” 16 U.S.C. § 1604(a) (emphasis added). The 2012 Planning Rule emphasizes this requirement:

“The responsible official shall coordinate land management planning with the equivalent and related planning efforts of federally recognized Indian Tribes, Alaska Native Corporations, other Federal agencies, and State and local governments.” 36 C.F.R. § 219.4(b)(1).

The 2012 Planning Rule also provides that the responsible official shall review the planning and land use policies of federally recognized Indian Tribes, Alaska Native corporations, other Federal agencies, and State and local governments, were relevant to the plan area.” 36 C.F.R. § 219.4(b)(2). While the Forest Service is not required to comply with these plans, a final EIS must contain results of this review, including consideration of objectives, the compatibility and interrelated impacts of Forest Service plan and local government policies, opportunities to contribute to common objectives and ways to reduce conflicts between a Forest Service plan and local policies. 36 C.F.R. § 2019.4(b)(2).

Additionally, the FS must recognize and honor valid existing rights and pre-existing rights in the TBNG Plan Amendment including, but not limited to, private property rights, grazing rights and mineral rights. These are the foundation of the economic engines that support our counties and protecting their historic interest ensures our long-term viability.

Finally, federal law requires the FS to administer the national grasslands for the purposes for which they were acquired. When the federal government acquires land for a particular public purpose, only Congress has the power to change that purpose or dispose of the acquired land. Thus, federal agencies must manage and administer acquired lands according to the purpose for which the federal government acquired them, unless Congress has authorized otherwise. Due to the fact that grazing was a primary purpose for acquiring the Thunder Basin National Grassland, grazing must be preserved in the Land Use Plan.

- Funding – The success of this plan amendment is dependent on funding sufficient enough to apply timely controls and treatments in prioritization areas. There is grave concern that the Forest Service will be unable to commit to the funding necessary to control prairie dogs both now and into the future. We must exercise all of our options to secure funding to control prairie dog densities, implement treatments and initiate restoration projects. The Counties will continue to provide funding support where feasible but funding opportunities must be pursued by all stakeholders.

Furthermore, the FS must utilize the Good Neighbor Authority Agreements that have been put into place through the Wyoming Game and Fish Department and the Wyoming Department of Agriculture and make use of them to the maximum extent possible. As you are aware, the Weed and Pest Districts can only use funds for treatments applied to private property. To apply controls and treatments to FS lands, the FS can either apply themselves or utilize an approved contractor but FS funds may or may not be available when needed for timely implementation. The Good Neighbor Authority allows funds from the FS and other sources to be used to assist in treatment and restoration application and must be utilized to a greater extent in order to fully meet the objectives of this plan amendment.

- Greater Sage-grouse – The FS should include a more robust analysis in the preferred alternative FEIS regarding the impacts to Greater Sage-grouse and provide management guidance as to how they will manage for competing resources between Sage-grouse Priority Habitat and prairie dog encroachment.

MODIFIED PROPOSED ALTERNATIVE COMMENTS

- Overall Comment – The Counties appreciate the work that has gone into this DEIS. To be clear, the Counties will continue to promote a preferred alternative that is pragmatic, effective and can be realistically implemented by the FS. Management concepts that cannot be practically administered will put the agency and the stakeholders in a position that fails to meet management goals. Therefore, the Counties generally support the Modified Proposed Alternative (Alternative 2) in the DEIS with modification as outlined below, along with the inclusion of some concepts from the Grassland Wide Alternative (Alternative 3). Specifically, we would encourage the FS to consider the following amendments:

  o Chapter 2, Page 29-31, Management Area 3.63 and the Cheyenne River Zoological Special Interest Area

    The boundary identified in the Modified Proposed Action as MA 3.67 should be reassessed and possibly expanded. While we do not have specific recommendations at this time, the Counties believe that with a boundary adjustment beyond the proposed 35,000 acres, it could create more flexibility for grazing allottees within MA 3.67 and allow for a more practical management approach in meeting objectives. Any boundary adjustments must be thoughtful and account for prairie dog habitat areas that can realistically be managed and prioritized for treatment by the FS.

  o Chapter 2, Page 32, Prairie Dog Colony Acre Targets and Distribution

    The prairie dog habitat targets identified within MA 3.67 in the Modified Proposed Alternative should remain at a 7,500 acre minimum and a 10,000 acre maximum. This sufficiently allows for adequate management of prairie dogs while meeting requirements for persistence and viability of the mountain plover and associated species.
Chapter 2, Page 32, Boundary Management Zones

The Counties continue to fully support the 1-mile buffer around residences and structures for the health and safety of residents. In addition, we support the establishment of the ¼ mile boundary management zone around private and state lands within MA 3.67 as a priority for the FS to apply treatment and control measures to prevent prairie dog encroachment. The Counties also support the temporary ¾ mile extension when encroachment is warranted to further protect private property and for the safety of our residents.

The Counties also support the condition that states “For control on National Forest System lands to proceed within a boundary management zone, the landowner or lessee will need to engage in concurrent control on adjacent private or state lands.” However, in unique situations where multiple landowners or absentee landowners exist in adjacent private lands and a landowner refuses to apply controls or treatment on private lands, the FS should find it sufficient to prioritize treatment if the majority of landowners or lessees in the area are engaging in concurrent control on adjacent private lands.

Chapter 2, Page 33, Density Control

Density control continues to be a critical component for managing the unwanted expansion of prairie dog populations within MA 3.67 and maintaining target objectives. Density control must continue to be utilized to achieve management objectives below 7,500 acres and lethal control must be allowed to realistically manage targets between 7,500 acres to 10,000 acres.

Chapter 2, Page 33, Density Control – “…then satellite colonies could be identified outside management area 3.67…”

While the intent of establishing satellite colonies to offset population targets outside of MA 3.67 seemed logical, it is now clear that management of satellite colonies is wrought with challenges that make its application cumbersome, uncertain and controversial as it could eventually put restrictions on grazing permittees and landowners outside of MA 3.67 that are currently unforeseen. Therefore, the Counties support removing satellite colonies from consideration as a management strategy and recommend that the FS incorporate some components in the Grassland Wide Alternative that is outlined below in these comments. If the satellite colony strategy is eliminated in the preferred alternative as a management tool, Appendix B should be modified to reflect this change.

Chapter 2, Page 33, Approved Rodenticides – “The use of anticoagulants rodenticides and fumigants would be prohibited.”

There may be situations where anticoagulants are the only necessary treatment available to effectively manage the problem. For example, “feeder” colonies may exist outside of boundary management zones that continue to persist after consistent treatment is applied and it is determined that the appropriate management action is to eliminate the colony. In some cases, isolated use of anticoagulants may be the best and most cost-effective approach to controlling the unwanted expansion of prairie dogs.

The FS must not obligate future FS supervisors from utilizing control treatments such as Rozol and Kaput. As conditions change over time and new policies and directives are issued by new administrations, each FS supervisor should have the decision-making space to issue their own guidance regarding the use and implementation of effective control methods such as anticoagulants, fumigants, or any other lethal control methods available.

The option to allow for limited use of anticoagulant rodenticides and fumigants must be included in the FS FEIS preferred alternative and any use of these control methods must conform to the label restrictions. Additionally, language from the Grassland Wide Alternative allows “fumigants and anticoagulant rodenticides could be used only in boundary management zones and only after three consecutive applications of zinc phosphide.” The Counties would contend that three consecutive applications of zinc phosphide is unnecessary, ineffective and should be reconsidered as fewer applications may demonstrate that other more effective methods for treatments may be the most practical and cost-effective. The FS must allow for flexibility in management to adequately and effectively govern the situation.

- Chapter 2, Page 33, Recreational Shooting – “Recreational prairie dog shooting would be prohibited from February 1 to August 15 in management area 3.67, including in the boundary management zone.”

The Counties contend that the recreational prairie dog shooting timing prohibition is an arbitrary restriction, unsupported by scientific data and should be removed. Recreational shooting has a greater economic value than as a control tool to manage prairie dog densities. Placing a 6.5 month ban on shooting activity during a time of prairie dog reproduction is not logical. The implementation of a recreational shooting timing restriction does not significantly impact population swings but may in fact exacerbate the prairie dog population problem by protecting them during reproductive timeframes. This requirement is contrary to the treatment and control objectives of this plan without any clear data to support its implementation and should be deleted from this document.

- Chapter 2, Page 33, Drought Plan – “During drought, to mitigate colony expansion, the total acreage of colonies in management area 3.67 and satellite colonies could be managed toward a temporary alternative target of 7,500 acres.”

The Counties continue to support more aggressive management and control treatments during drought situations to control the excessive expansion of prairie dog populations. However, as explained above, satellite colonies should be eliminated as a management strategy in the preferred alternative.

- Chapter 2, Page 34, Management Strategy and Collaborative Stakeholder Group

The Counties continue to support the elimination of the 2015 Black-tailed Prairie Dog Conservation Assessment and Management Strategy referred to in this document.

The Counties also fully support the continuation of a stakeholder collaborative group both in the interim while the plan amendment is being conducted and beyond the Record of Decision being issued. It is critical that all stakeholders have a forum to participate and remain engaged with the agency in the current and future decision-making process. Continued coordination will be a measure of overall, long-term success. In addition, the Counties believe it is critical to have a third-party convener as this allows the process to have more flexibility and to move forward in a timely manner. A third-party convener can also assist with ensuring an organizational structure that will continue beyond the Record of Decision.
It is appropriate for the FS to include plan components relevant to working with a collaborative stakeholder group in Appendix B. While the FS must make every effort to include the stakeholder collaborative group for input regarding recommendations for monitoring, mapping, treatment and restoration priorities; it is recognized that the FS has the ultimate decision-making authority on federal lands to manage and comply with the planning components in the Record of Decision.

- COMMENTS REGARDING GRASSLAND WIDE ALTERNATIVE

The Counties would recommend that the FS consider combining the following grassland wide components with the proposed alternative as modified in the comments above to form a FS preferred alternative in the FEIS. The Counties would request that the FS consider and adopt in the preferred alternative the following planning components outside MA 3.67:

  o Chapter 3, Page 35, Boundary Management Zones

  Control of prairie dogs within 1 mile of residences would continue to be the highest priority for treatment, and all lethal and nonlethal control tools would be available. Boundary Management Zones would not be designated around private or state lands outside of MA 3.67; however, lethal control would be allowed at any time to control unwanted expansion and encroachment of prairie dogs.

  o Chapter 3, Page 38, Prairie Dog Colony Acre Targets and Distribution

  The target objective grassland wide should be changed to a desired condition and the prairie dog habitat target range should be 10,000 acres to no more than 15,000 acres with the 7,500 to 10,000 acre target within the MA 3.67 boundary counting toward the grassland wide desired condition habitat target. Colonies within the MA 3.67 boundary management zone will not count toward the 10,000 acre colony acreage target.

  o Chapter 3, Page 38, Approved Rodenticides

  As stated above, there may be situations where “feeder” colonies exist that continue to persist after consistent treatment is applied and the proper management action would be to eliminate the colony. In some cases, isolated use of anticoagulants may be the best and most cost-effective approach to controlling the unwanted expansion of prairie dogs.

  The option to allow for limited use of anticoagulant rodenticides and fumigants must be included in the FS FEIS preferred alternative and any use of these control methods must conform to the label restrictions.

  o Chapter 3, Page 38, Recreational Shooting

  There would be no restrictions on recreational shooting of prairie dogs.

  o Chapter 3, Page 38, Drought Plan

  The Counties continue to support the more aggressive management and control treatments during drought situations to control the excessive expansion of prairie dog populations and mitigate toward the lower end of the target range (10,000 acres) across the Thunder Basin National Grasslands.
Density control including lethal control would be allowed anywhere and at any time outside of MA 3.67 to manage unwanted expansion beyond allowable limits. The Counties support the requirement that pretreatment data would be collected where density control occurs and monitoring data would be collected for a minimum of two years after treatment.

ADDITIONAL COMMENTS

- Chapter 1, Page 9, Black-Footed Ferret Reintroduction on the Thunder Basin Nation Grassland

  The Counties strongly support the recommendation to remove references regarding the Black-footed Ferret as a priority species under the current 2001 TBNG Land Use Plan and its amendments. It is also appropriate that any future consideration of a reintroduction of the Black-footed Ferret must follow the Wyoming Game and Fish Department management plan, which requires stakeholder support and guides conservation and management of the species in the state.

- Chapter 2, Page 33, Thresholds for Rodenticide Use – “When the acreage of colonies within management area 3.67 is less than 7,500 acres, lethal control tools would not be used except in the following situations: Use in boundary management zones.”

  The FS should also include density control as a bullet point in this section.

- Chapter 3, Page 63, Second Paragraph – “Prairie dog colonies area mapped and monitored on an annual basis by Thunder Basin National Grassland staff and with agreements with partner agencies and organizations.”

  It is imperative that consistent and annual monitoring and mapping of prairie dog colonies continues as it enables the FS to identify priorities and apply the most appropriate treatments. It is expected that all information would continue to be shared with the Thunder Basin Working Group and that the stakeholders have a forum to participate and remain engaged with the agency in the current and future decision-making process. All parties will need to be committed to contributing the funding necessary to achieve the goal of conducting annual monitoring and mapping efforts but the FS needs to provide assurances that funding will be allocated on an annual basis specifically for mapping and monitoring efforts.

The FS has made great strides in developing a proposed action to allow for controls to be available for use in all situations, to eliminate single species management approaches, to eliminate unrealistic management objectives through previously approved NEPA documents, to refocus desired conditions to short stature vegetation that provides for multiple use, to recognize and defer to state Wyoming Game and Fish Department policies, and to prioritize the protection of private and state lands; however, there are still areas to improve in creating a preferred alternative for the FEIS.

We now have an opportunity to amend the Land Use Plan to allow for an array of tools to balance the management of this historically tenuous situation. If the Counties can play a greater role in mobilizing on-the-ground treatments or resolving issues and finding solutions, we stand ready to do so and will work with the FS and all stakeholders to achieve that goal.

Again, we thank you for your leadership and the opportunity to continue to work with you and your staff throughout this process. We are committed to remaining engaged in the process as cooperating agencies and as working group

SUBJECT: 2020 Mileage Rates

On January 1, 2020 the Internal Revenue Service released their mileage rates for 2020. In the past three years Campbell County has mirrored these rates. For 2020 the changes are as follows:

Business Mileage $0.575 (57.5¢ per mile)
Medical Mileage $0.17 (17¢ per mile)

The business mileage reimbursement rate will decrease 0.5¢ from the rate of 58¢ for 2019. The rate for medical mileage will decrease 3¢ from the 20¢ per mile for 2019.

If adopted the rate for business mileage would be used when submitting travel expense statements for reimbursable business miles driven in personal vehicles during 2020. If the miles were driven in 2019, the 2019 rate would still apply.

If adopted, the medical rate would be used when submitting mileage driven in 2020 that is eligible for reimbursement through medical FSA or HSA accounts.

I recommend that we continue to mirror the mileage rates from the Internal Revenue Service for 2020.

TO:       Board of Campbell County Commissioners

FROM:     Charity D. Stewart
          Campbell County Election’s Coordinator

DATE:     December 30, 2019

RE:       Southside Well Improvement and Service District

Attached to this memo is a request from Southside Well Improvement and Service District to appoint Rex Markley, Kaye Markley and Barbara Carlisle to their Board of Directors. Please add this to the January 7 meeting agenda. I will be presenting this item.

The district last held an election in 2012, when both Rex Markley and Barbara Carlisle were elected. Since that time, this district has not been in compliance with the County Clerk’s Office. However, they are taking steps to become compliant. The board members need to be appointed by the Board of Commissioners until the next election in November 2020 in order to have a current Board of Directors.

Please contact me if you need more information.

January 2, 2020

Dear County Commissioners:

Personal Frontier's (PFI) is coming to you today to ask for assistance in acquiring the Century 21 building recently listed for sale.

Personal Frontiers has been a part of this community since 1976, and the building we currently lease is in very poor condition. For example, as most of you know we have flooding problems, and black mold is growing where we have to hold groups. Although it's not visible in additional offices they have also flooded and we anticipate there is black mold there as well.

The Century 21 building is an ideal place for PFI to continue to serve our community and have a building our clients and staff can take pride in.

It has come to our attention that the Adult Treatment Court will soon be increasing the client count from 30 to 50 clients. As this is important for our community, PFI does not have the adequate space to accommodate this increase.

Since July 1, 2019, PFI has been able to provide services to ATC, JFDC and the community. We feel the work we do is important, and know it helps to keep our community safe. With that being said we have outgrown our current location, due to the increased programs we are now offering.

I have also asked to be able to go in front of the City Administrator to possibly help as well. I am waiting for a response as to when this will be happening, and if and when I would be able to go to the City Council.

The asking price for the building is $595,000.00. Kim Carroll who sits on our board and works for the title company stated that she feels this is a very good price for the building as it has been completely remodeled. The only modification that we would need is to have an office window added to one room, for added visibility of the front reception area.

Obviously, as a non-profit we don't have the means to purchase a building and so we are asking if you would consider half the cost, and possibly the city could help with the other half.
PFI is paying $1800.00 a month for rent now and would be willing to use that money to pay back the county and city with a lease to purchase agreement.

I will also be researching the possibility of writing any available grants, however, I am unaware of any at this time that we could qualify for.

I have attached the building floorplan as well as the demographics for your review.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

Accordingly, we will not express an opinion or a conclusion or provide any assurance on any reports we may provide to you.

MEMORANDUM

TO: Board of Commissioners

FROM: Carol Seeger
Commissioners Administrative Director

RE: Second Amended Resolution of Non-Discrimination and Personnel Guideline 201 – Productive Work Environment

DATE: January 7, 2020

Accompanying this memo are two documents being provided for your consideration for approval.

The first is an amendment to the Resolution adopted by the Board regarding the county’s policy of non-discrimination. The amendment adds sexual orientation to the policy which is consistent with current law. The resolution was also updated with regard to language pertaining to auxiliary aids.

The second is a similar change to the county personnel guideline regarding the provision of a productive work environment with the inclusion of sexual orientation.

Should you have questions regarding the proposed changes or if I can be of further assistance, please let me know.
SECOND AMENDED RESOLUTION OF NON-DISCRIMINATION
RESOLUTION NO. 1472

WHEREAS, Campbell County recognizes that it is subject to and has a continuing obligation to comply with the provisions of the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA);

AND WHEREAS, Campbell County recognizes that all persons, regardless of disability, race, color, national origin, sex, sexual orientation, religion or age, should have an opportunity for employment and participation in the County’s programs, services and activities;

AND WHEREAS, Campbell County adopted a written policy on May 7, 1996 recognizing its commitment to adherence to the requirements of the ADA and desires to further document that commitment;

THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that Campbell County will not discriminate against any person, regardless of disability, race, color, national origin, sex, sexual orientation, religion or age in employment opportunities or in the County’s programs, services and activities.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED THAT Campbell County shall ensure that individuals with disabilities have communication access that is as effective as the communication of others and will make reasonable accommodations and/or modifications to enable persons with disabilities to have access to the goods, services, and other opportunities Campbell County provides. Campbell County will provide appropriate auxiliary aids and services, whenever necessary, to ensure effective communication with individuals with disabilities; unless to do so would result in a fundamental alteration of a program or impose an undue financial burden.

An individual who requires a communication related auxiliary aid or service to participate in a Campbell County program or activity, should contact the County as far in advance as is reasonably possible in order to better enable the County to address the needs of that individual. However, all such requests will be addressed in accordance with current law.

Auxiliary aids and services include a wide variety of equipment, materials and personal services; any of which may be used to provide effective communication for people with disabilities. Such auxiliary aids and services may include, but are not limited to the following:

Auxiliary aids and services for people with visual disabilities including: printed information provided on cassettes diskettes, in Braille, large print, or read by qualified readers (see below for a description of “qualified readers”). Services also may include providing an assistant to guide a person with limited vision along an unfamiliar route.

Auxiliary aids and services for people with hearing or speech disabilities include: qualified oral/sign language interpreters, written notes, real-time transcription services, video text displays, amplified and hearing aid compatible telephones, assistive listening systems, open or closed captioning and caption decoders.

A qualified reader or oral/sign language interpreter is: an individual who is able to read or interpret effectively, accurately, and impartially(both receptively and expressively) using any necessary specialized vocabulary. An oral/sign language interpreter must be able to sign to a deaf/hard of hearing individual what is being said by the hearing person, and to voice to the hearing person what is being signed by the individual who is deaf/hard of hearing.

A qualified interpreter must interpret impartially. Thus, a family member or friend of the individual who is deaf/hard of hearing may not be qualified to render interpretation because of factors such as professional or personal involvement. Furthermore, although an interpreter may be certified, a certified interpreter is not necessarily “qualified” if he/she cannot interpret impartially. Likewise, certification is not required in order for an interpreter to be “qualified.”

Once Campbell County receives notification of the needs of an individual, the County will confer with the individual to determine auxiliary aids or services that may be required; based on the nature of the disability, the circumstances, requirements, and preferences of the individual. Campbell County reserves the right to determine the type of auxiliary aids or services to be used and will make reasonable accommodations/modifications it deems appropriate based upon, and in consideration of, the particular circumstances.

The definition of disability will be determined under the guidelines established by the Americans with Disabilities Act. No adverse action will be taken against any person requesting or questioning adherence to this policy.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that Campbell County Risk Manager, 500 South Gillette Avenue, Suite 1200, Gillette, Wyoming 82716, telephone number (307) 687-6356 has been designated to coordinate compliance with the non-discrimination requirements contained within the ADA and Section 35.107 of the Department of Justice regulations. Information concerning the provisions of the ADA, the rights provided thereunder and complaints pertaining to possible violations are to be directed to the ADA coordinator.

RESOLVED THIS 7th day of January, 2020.

201. PROTECTING A PRODUCTIVE WORK ENVIRONMENT AND PROHIBITING HARASSMENT

It is the policy of Campbell County to promote a productive work environment that is free of harassment on the basis of any protected status. Campbell County does not tolerate conduct by any employee that has the purpose or effect of substantially interfering with another's work performance or that creates an intimidating, offensive, or hostile work environment.

Employees are expected to maintain a work environment that is free of unlawful harassment, including harassment for the following reasons: race, color, national origin, religion, disability, pregnancy, age, military status, sex, sexual orientation or any other status protected by state or federal law. Any such harassment will not be tolerated, and any violation of this policy will result in disciplinary action, up to and including termination of employment.

Supervisors have the responsibility to monitor the workplace and respond immediately to any violation of this policy, to encourage employees who have complaints to report those complaints, to report all violations and complaints to Human Resources/Risk Management or the County Attorney, to support and assist in the investigation of any and all reports of harassment, and to take corrective action when necessary to change, modify or control situations involving confirmed claims. All supervisors are required to immediately report any complaint or observation of conduct that may violate this policy to Human Resources/Risk Management or the County Attorney.

Harassment includes any verbal or physical conduct of an offensive nature that is based on or motivated by any protected status, including offensive comments, jokes, innuendo, insults or other forms of inappropriate conduct. Harassment also includes offensive or harassing statements or conduct which is motivated by a person's race, color, national origin, religion, disability, pregnancy, age, military status, sex, sexual orientation or disability status, whether or not the statement or conduct are overtly derogatory toward those protected statuses.

Sexual Harassment – Sexual harassment is a form of prohibited harassment.

Sexually harassing or offensive conduct in the workplace, whether committed by supervisors, managers, non-supervisory personnel, or non-employees, is prohibited. Such conduct includes, but is not limited to:

1. Unwanted physical contact or conduct or any kind, including sexual flirtations, touching, advances, or propositions;

2. Verbal abuse of a sexual nature, such as lewd comments, sexual jokes or references;

3. Demeaning, insulting, intimidating or sexually suggestive comments about an individual;

4. The display in the workplace of demeaning, insulting, intimidating, or sexually suggestive objects, pictures, or photographs;
5. Demeaning, insulting, intimidating, or sexually suggestive written, recorded, or electronically transmitted messages (such as e-mail, instant messaging, and internet materials). Refer to Guideline 507, Electronic Data and Voice Communications Equipment Use, of the Campbell County Personnel Guidelines for further information regarding the use of electronic equipment.

6. Any threat or insinuation, either explicit or implicit, that an employee’s submission to or rejection of sexual advances will affect the employee’s terms or conditions of employment.

It is important to recognize that the fact that someone did not intend to harass another individual is no defense to a report of harassment. Regardless of intent, it is the effect and characteristics of the conduct that determine whether the conduct constitutes prohibited harassment.

Reporting and Investigation – If you believe there has been a violation of this Guideline, you have the responsibility to report the situation as soon as possible to your supervisor, department/agency administrator, the County Attorney, or the Human Resources/Risk Management Department. You are free to choose any of these options for reporting a harassment concern or possible violation of this policy.

Reports of harassment will be handled and investigated promptly in as impartial and confidential manner as possible consistent with the need to conduct a thorough investigation. Employees are required to cooperate in an investigation. The County will notify employees reporting possible violations of the results of the investigation; however, any corrective or disciplinary action will remain confidential.

Retaliation Is Prohibited – Campbell County prohibits any form of retaliation against employees for reporting possible violations of this policy, for assisting in an investigation, or for otherwise opposing any activity or conduct which might violate this policy. No adverse employment action will be taken against any employee because of the employee’s good faith report of alleged harassment or discrimination or suspected violation of the Productive Work Environment policy, or against any employee because the employee is a witness or is otherwise involved in an investigation of such a complaint or report. Any retaliatory conduct should be reported through the procedure stated in the Report and Investigation paragraph. Retaliation will be considered a serious violation of this policy, independent of whether a charge or informal complaint or report is unsubstantiated. Encouraging others to retaliate also violates this policy.
